■ 2026-02-13_06:50:00

Initialized quality review journal. Established scope: 75 textbook chapters to review against quality-instructions.md test specifications.

■ 2026-02-13_08:57:19

Reset test cycle. Cleared e2e/ directory. Simplified over-engineered Playwright test examples in quality-instructions.md - tests now only perform user actions (click, type, navigate), verify URL changes, and capture screenshots. Added "Playwright Test Philosophy" section. Tests should NOT iterate rows, extract/sort data, monitor network, or re-implement application logic.

■ 2026-02-13_09:00:39

Sanity check of all four quality documents. Removed duplicate sections from quality-instructions.md (Anti-Pattern Checklist, Test Execution Commands, Required Data Attributes were duplicated). Updated kickoff-prompt.md to include: test philosophy (headless only, click/type/navigate/verify URL/screenshot), what tests should NOT do, and three test artifacts (URL assertion, screenshot, journal entry). All documents now mutually consistent.

■ 2026-02-13_09:30:25

CRITICAL PROCEDURAL UPDATE: Added mandatory screenshot verification requirement to all four quality documents.

Key changes:

- kickoff-prompt.md: Added "IMPORTANT: Screenshot Verification is Mandatory" section. Test workflow now requires using Read tool to inspect screenshot images before declaring pass/fail.
- quality-instructions.md: Added "Screenshot Verification Requirement" section explaining that Playwright "passing" only means code ran without errors, NOT that visual output is correct.
- test-rubric.md: Added "Screenshot Verification (MANDATORY)" section with verification checklist. Updated 1.3 Highlighted State tests to specify Query Control must be expanded (shows active highlights chip), not just Statistics.
- Highlight tests (V1.3.x) now correctly specify: Keep Query Control + Statistics expanded, collapse Query Panel + Manufacturer-Model Picker + Results Table.

This addresses the issue where tests were reported as passing without verifying the screenshot content matched the test criteria.
